

Colonial Williamsburg

2002–2003 ELECTRONIC FIELD TRIPS

In the General's Secret Service

October 3, 2002

To win a war, the military must keep its secrets, and in every war, spies risk their lives to uncover those secrets. Learn about British and American spies and the secret war of the American Revolution.

The Case of the Shuttered Room

November 7, 2002

Join young history sleuths who enlist the aid of Colonial Williamsburg curators, historians and archaeologists to learn how the artifacts from the William Waters House help solve the mystery of the people who lived there.

The April Conspiracy

December 5, 2002

March with British troops in April 1775 as they seize colonial weapons and powder in Massachusetts and Virginia. Join the patriots in the confrontations at Lexington, Concord and Williamsburg that launched the Revolution.

...Influenced by None

January 16, 2003

“Freedom of the press” is a principle that Americans take for granted. Eighteenth-century printers, though, were not free to express an independent point of view. Explore the world of Clementina Rind, printer of The Virginia Gazette in pre-Revolutionary War America.

Chained to the Land

February 6, 2003

Plantation masters exploited the slave labor of African-Americans to create a successful agricultural economy. Through the voices of slave and master, explore the economic, social and racial development of plantation life.

Jefferson's West

March 6, 2003

Thomas Jefferson secured the American West and the future of the United States of America. Join Jefferson as he examines the flora, fauna and Indian artifacts collected by Lewis and Clark's Corps of Discovery and reflects on the significance of their mission.

Crossroads

April 3, 2003

Travel through Colonial Virginia the way people did in the 18th century. On horseback, in a carriage and on foot, you'll traverse the lanes of time in this unique transportation experience.

FOR INFORMATION OR REGISTRATION
CALL 1-800-761-8331